TRANSCRIPT
Closing Remarks

Amy Gutmann, Ph.D.
Commission Chair

Meeting 4, Day 1 Closing Remarks
February 28, 2011
Washington, D.C.

DR. GUTMANN:

Let me just say a few words in conclusion. One is that we invite anybody to -- people who have presented, people in the audience, any member of the concerned public -- to write us, and we have a website with the information, if you have any comments, or any suggestions for us. Secondly, we are reconvening tomorrow morning at nine o'clock, to discuss the issue that we have been charged by President Obama to undertake, which is a very important timely and topical issue. It's also, I dare say, a timeless issue, and that is human subjects research and in particular, international clinical trials.

So, thank you all for being here. Really appreciated your input. Thank you very much.
